

WILL EXAMINE THE REASONS

For The Remarkable Activity On Trades In New York On Saturday Last.

ONE FIRM ANNOUNCES ITS CLOSE

Governing Committee Of The New York Board Of Trade Wants Explanation For Saturday's Remarkable Activity In Stocks.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Aug. 24.—Wall Street is agog this afternoon over the announcement that Saturday's wonderful stock juggling game is to be investigated.

The Governing Board of the Stock Exchange were summoned early this morning for an executive session and much excitement was caused by the same party.

This, it is said, was done in order to create a semblance of activity without running the actual risk of buying or selling it.

If this is found to be the real reason steps will be taken to prevent a repetition of the occurrences of Saturday. One of the latest effects of Saturday's trading came this morning, when the firm of Williams Company announced on the stock exchange it had failed.

This will not affect business, as the firm was not heavily involved and the deals it had on hand were small.

CONSTANTINOPLE HAS A SERIOUS BLAZE

May Have Been Part of the Movement of the Young Turks' Rebellion—
Two Thousand Houses Burned.

[REUTERS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Constantinople, Aug. 24.—A mysterious fire which broke out in Stamboul quarter yesterday afternoon was extinguished at midnight. It is estimated that fully two thousand buildings were destroyed. The state of unrest in which Turkey now is may be responsible for the story that the flames were of incendiary origin.

Turkey is at the present time passing into a new era of its history and matters like the fire of Sunday are questioned closely by foreign powers. The question is asked:

Will the reform in Turkey sustain itself? At no time since the invasion of Turkey by the barbarians in the fifth century has so radical a change taken place as that which occurred during the month of July, when the whole government system was renovated and changed. It is the final struggle of a nation which has been constantly in the throes of an international conflict and internal revolution for the past 600 years.

The Turks are great fighters. Even in a boy of 10 years we can see that dignified, fiery temper which has in made Turkey what it is today in holding and in constant danger of their life. Russia has been anxious for centuries to obtain control of Turkey and had it not been for the triple alliance, would undoubtedly now have been supreme. If the younger Turks show themselves capable of handling the situation in a peaceful manner the constitutional government recently declared will be the salvation of Turkey. If they do not this will go down in history as the final struggle of one of the oldest nations in the world.

A number of women, men and children are reported burned to death. The homeless number seven thousand. Stamboul is the Mohammedan part of the city. Within its walls are the Saracito, the principal mosque, the minarets of the sultans, the baths, the bazaars, the public offices of government, and the existing remains of ancient Constantinople.

It is divided for administrative purposes into three municipal circles and into a large number of quarters. Separate quarters are allotted to the Armenians, the Greeks, and the Jews.

In 1855 the quarters were destroyed by fire. The general appearance of the older streets is that of a city built of wood. Many of the buildings, however, are of much more solid construction by the Theodosian walls of Constantine, some of brick and some of timber and stone.

Stamboul covers the whole area in-

The excursion has been arranged by the Canadian Institute with a view towards interesting British and Continental mining experts in the great mineral resources of the Dominion. TRIAL IS BEGUN OF LAND FRAUD CASES

Government Seeks to Revoke Patents
Because Companies Know of Minerals.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Carson City, Nev., Aug. 24.—An important suit involving alleged land frauds will be called for trial in the Federal court tomorrow. Five thousand acres of rich lands in Washoe and Humboldt counties are involved. The government contends that when the titles of the land were procured by the Central Pacific company, the Southern Pacific and the United States Trust company, it was with the understanding that there were no known minerals in the land. It is now sought to have the patents revoked on the grounds that the companies knew of the existence of the minerals in the land when the titles were secured. The case for the government will be conducted by United States District Attorney Pratt.

HUMORISTS GATHER FOR BIG MEETING

Press Humorists Convene

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Denver, Colo., Aug. 24.—As a solemn appearing a lot of men as ever attended convention of funeral directors arrived in Denver today to take part in the sixth annual convention of the American Press Humorists. They are the men who furnish the newspaper laughs, the fellows who hunt the bright side of everything and make it light.

The convention will get down to business tomorrow and continue in session through the greater part of the week. Some business is to be transacted, but the most of the time will be given over to entertainment. One of the features will be a public entertainment to aid the fund for a monument to Bill Nye.

BURNS AND SQUIRES PICK TODAY AS DATE

Dout Fixed to Take Place Before a Club in Sydney—Burns Picked as Winner.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 24.—According to the latest advice from Australia this is the date fixed for the so-called heavyweight championship fight between Tommy Burns and Bill Squires. The bout is to take place before a club in Sydney. In the opinion of ring followers here who saw the mill between Burns and the Australian when the latter first arrived in this country the return engagement, if it is on the level, should prove to be a victory for Burns before the men have been in the ring many minutes. In all of the American bouts the much-touted Australian showed himself the easiest money not only for Burns but for all of the second-raters he went against.

Today there was a meeting of the Washington State bar association, which was attended by many eminent guests from other states. When the members of the American Bar association convened for their initial session tomorrow it will be to listen to an address by Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford university. At the evening session the chief speaker will be Judge C. H. Hanford of the United States district court for the western district of Washington. Judge Hanford will speak on the subject of "National Progression and the Increasing Responsibility of Our National Judiciary."

Washington, D. C., Aug. 24.—Mundji Bey, the new Turkish minister at Washington, was formerly counsellor general, New York, whom Mehmed Ali Bey has turned over the legation at Washington, New York. The departure of Mehmed Ali Bey, the new Turkish minister, from the legation at Washington, New York, was announced yesterday.

was a necessary stop following the change of government at home, for the former inhibitor held his position through the influence of his father at court. It is stated that for many years Izat Pasha, his father, has dominated the sultan.

Not only is Mehmed Ali deposed, but his life is constantly in danger. He has received several death notes which have affected him materially day and night. He fears the assassin's hand at every move. He has become extremely nervous and on the least provocation will tremble like an aspen leaf. The note he received a couple of days ago stated:

"If you dare to come to New York we will kill you. The sun has arisen anew on our nation. They that have dimmed the luster of its name shall fade. Izat Pasha and his son shall answer to those who love their country."

When this pleasant little note was handed to Mehmed Ali Bey he nearly fainted. It was bad enough that his father had to flee for his life and that he had been stripped of all honor, by being summarily deposed. Had not his old enemy, Mundji Bey, consul general at New York, brought him sufficient humiliation with imperial orders to turn over to him the legation? Was his cup of woe not filled to overflowing when he, the minister of Abdul Hamid, the personal representative of Ali, was shorn of all prerogatives and official recognition? Had not his staff of subordinates without notice been ordered to vacate his residence and set up the imperial legation elsewhere?

Grief-stricken over his many misfortunes, it was almost more than he could bear to have threats of personal violence added.

Mundji Bey, the unrelenting enemy of Mehmed Ali Bey, finds nothing in the situation to worry him. He is all smiles and is as happy as Mehmed Ali Bey.

Combinations in Dominoes.

It has been estimated that "two persons playing dominoes ten hours a day and making four moves a minute could continue 118,000 years without exhausting all the combinations of the game, the total of which is 248,628,211,840."

FLEMING BOY.

One of the sensations of the harness season is the performance of Fleming Boy. At the Terre Haute opening of the Great Western he set a new world's record for goldings and has been going in good style against all rivals since. At the Kalamazoo meeting he was jumped from the Grand Circuit and will go around the eastern tracks.

Electro-Magnets Lift Glass.
Electro-magnets are used for lifting and handling large panes of glass. A glass is a non-magnetic material, a piece of sheet iron is placed under it and one or more magnets applied on the upper face. The magnets attract the sheet iron and therefore hold the glass suspended while moving—Popular Mechanics.

Roosevelt's Emphatic Approval of the Currency Bill.

Senator Stephenson voted for it and Congressman Cooper against it.

Oyster Bay, New York, August 20.

"Beyond all question the emergency currency bill was a good measure, and I have not heard it attacked with any arguments which

I thought even deserved an answer.

It is avowedly only an emergency measure. It lasts merely the length of time to permit us to develop a permanent plan; but during that time, it makes provision for the needed elasticity of currency, and it does it in an utterly unquestionable manner."

TAFT'S REPLY

While Mr. Taft does not handle the English language quite as adroitly and rhetorically as Mr. Bryan, yet he manages in his own way to deal effectively with Mr. Bryan's arguments.

The reply which Mr. Taft makes to Mr. Bryan's attack on the republican record regarding the trusts, the railroads and the corporations must commend itself to every sound mind.

Mr. Taft well says that we are dealing with an incident in human progress which requires all the practical common sense of the American people.

This incident involves the settlement of the proper relations of the political power to the financial power, of the government to the corporations.

It involves the solution of the problem of how business shall be prevented from developing either into the oppressive monopoly or demoralizing anarchy. This being done without undue and dangerous centralization of political power and governmental interference in business.

Such a problem as this calls for steady progress, but it does not call for what Mr. Taft well describes as "hastily formed or vaguely described statutes suggested in the hurry of a political campaign or approved for the purpose of catching votes."

It is an easy thing for a political operator in the opposition, having no official responsibility, to make all sorts of charges and suggest all sorts of remedies. It is quite another thing to draft wise plans and pose constitutional legislation that will stand the test of the passing years.

BRYAN AND THE WORLD

"The New York World has come out openly for William J. Bryan.

The World is a very able edited paper of wide circulation. Mr. Bryan has won a notable triumph in securing its support, especially so before his nomination

the World attacked him day by day with the utmost severity of language," says the Wall Street Journal.

"Mr. Bryan now for the first time in his three campaigns has the support of a New York newspaper of the first rank. The World justifies its action by declaring that the democratic party and the democratic candidate have come openly to the World's platform and therefore the World can do no less than acknowledge the fact and act accordingly by supporting the party and its candidate.

"Able as the World is, it will find it difficult to carry conviction to the bulk of its readers. It has sold too many things in denunciation of Mr.
Bryan in the past to make its words of support and praise now ring true.
A newspaper, no more than a candidate, can make too many shifts of its position. Mr. Bryan has changed his ground by coming to what the World considers its own platform, but the American people cannot forget where Mr. Bryan has stood in the past, nor will it forget where the World has stood, but the World will lose more than Mr. Bryan by the compromise. It would have been stronger if it had remained independent."

CORN ON THE COB

"No vegetable is more nutritious, more appetizing, more tempting in other respects than this staple product—the rich yellow and white corn when served on the cob," says the Springfield State Register. "Corn is the great North American vegetable and there should be great demand of it eaten. It is cheap, wholesome, nourishing, toothsome and eaten from the cob it encourages dexterity and penalizes cleanliness. And the corn exposition that is to be held in Springfield this fall should prove a powerful stimulus to the use of corn in all the shapes in which it is prepared for eating purposes."

"Corn was here long before Christopher Columbus. It is found in the mound builders' homes, in the Pueblo rock houses, in the Aztec kivas.

To the Indians it always was the staple staple. Green, roasted, parched or dried, it furnished the main food for the aborigines of this country."

"In the old American cooking, which surpassing anything in imitation of Paris or Berlin restaurants, corn stood first. For breakfast, corn cakes or fritters; for dinner, corn bread; for supper, corn biscuits, or mush fried or boiled, or mush and milk; for dessert, corn pudding. Nothing can beat these dishes if made by the hand of loving experience."

"To cook corn properly the cook must have been born in the United States; for corn meal preparations a black cook, and for green corn a white cook is said to produce the best tasting effects."

"As for roasting ears, which in fact are boiled and not roasted, hold on the border of that imaginative state."

"No one needs them who learned to eat corn when a boy or girl. As well eat the old style half-moon apple pie with a fork."

NOLAN'S CANDIDACY

The Blanchardville blade has the following to say of Nolan's candidacy for the congressional nomination:

"A member of congress for this district will be nominated September 1st.

There are two republican candidates—

Henry A. Cooper, of Racine, and Thomas S. Nolan, of Janesville.

"Mr. Cooper has been in office for over twenty-six years. In fact, he has held a political office ever since he began his life's work. The last sixteen years he has represented the district in congress. He was nominated first eighteen years ago, but was defeated in the election by Clinton Dubbitt.

"Mr. Nolan is not an officeholder nor a politician. Ever since his admission to the bar, he has given strict attention to the practice of his profession. He is also interested in business enterprises. He is recognized as one of the ablest lawyers in the state, and the newspaper of his county recommend him as Rock county's candidate. Even the democratic papers refer to him in the highest and laudatory terms. If nominated and elected, he will undoubtedly be a valuable man for the district."

READY FOR EMERGENCIES

Although several motion questions in regard to the emergency currency law are now pending before the attorney general for his opinion, the

New York bankers are nevertheless ready for an immediate issue of emergency notes under the Aldrich-Vre-land law, in case any emergency should arise. It probably wouldn't take more than a few hours to put the machinery of issue in operation.

Nevertheless the law will have to be amended to remove certain crud

Hardly a day passes but he has patients from Beloit, Edgerton, Evansville, Whitewater, and other surrounding cities.

After seeing the beautiful work he does,

No wonder people hesitate and refuse to longer pay $10.00 for work which DR. RICHARDS will do for $5.00 and no more.

A gold crown will save any old wreck of a tooth, and make it good and strong for many years of service.

Dr. Richards warrants his gold crowns to be equal in QUALITY OF ANY CROWNS MADE whether you have paid $10.00 or $25.00 for them. They are 22K Gold.

And beautiful in design. Let him do your NEXT dental work.

WM. LIGHTRIZER ENDED HIS LIFE

INHALED GAS IN ROOMS ON WEST ADAMS STREET IN CHICAGO.

BROODED ON LOVE AFFAIR

Was Disappointed in His Love for Mrs. Mattie Oberton—Left All to Her.

Yesterday afternoon Chief of Police Appleby received a telegram from O'Hara & Kohoe, undertakers in Chicago, asking him to communicate with Mrs. Marlan Lightizer of 361 Glen street, in this city, and ask her what disposition she wished to be made of the body of her son, William C. Lightizer, who had committed suicide in his room in Chicago. The chief notified Mrs. Lightizer and the brother of the dead man, Roy Lightizer, left last night for Cleage. Lightizer brought his life to an end after brooding over a love affair. His body was found in a room at 261 West Adams street, where the man had inhaled gas with suicidal intent.

"I died for the girl I loved," was the postscript to a letter written by Lightizer and left with other communications addressed to Mrs. Mattie Oberton, 449 Robey street. Another note was addressed to Mrs. R. Strick, 317 West Van Buren street.

Before turning on the gas Lightizer wrote a will, in which he left all of his property to Mrs. Oberton, with the hope that she would have a good time.

Body Tied to Gas Fixture

When found by the police the body was tied to a gas fixture with a rope. Lightizer had fixed a rubber tube to the gas jet and placed the other end in his mouth.

The letter addressed to Mrs. Oberton follows:

"Well, I suppose you wanted me arrested for what I did. I am sorry, I'm insured until the 25th of the month. You get the money. I hope you have a good time. I never thought you would do what you did."

"This is the first time I have erred for many a year. There is many a tear on this paper. Well, I hope you enjoy yourself. Think of me. I will give you my will. Fight this will and you will win. Have him arrested. He has always done this. Yours forever, 'WILL.'

Leaves a Will

The will mentioned by Lightizer was written on a plain piece of paper, and read as follows:

"I hereby make my will to Martha Oberton or children of 449 Robey street of two lots in Columbus, Wis., and one more that my mother has in my name. And also my rings, which she has. There are seven in all and one here and one watch."

"W. C. LIGHTIZER."

The letter addressed to Mrs. Strick read:

"Friend: I suppose when I bade you good-by you didn't know what I was going to do, did you? Well, Rosa, please go out and inform Mattie, 449 Robey street. Yours,

"WILL C. LIGHTIZER."

"P.S.—I died for the girl I loved." The police have discovered that Lightizer's wife died three years ago and it is the belief that he had been disappointed in a recent love affair.

An inquest will be made in the hope of finding the girl in the case.

William C. Lightizer would have been 29 years old next December. He left Janesville about nine years ago and since that time had lived mostly in Chicago. While here and shortly before he left he was employed by the street railway company.

He leaves to mourn his death a mother, Mrs. Marlan Lightizer; a brother, Roy Lightizer; and a sister, Grace Lightizer. The burial will be either in Madison or Chicago, but the arrangements have not been made as yet.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Fred Gray of Salida, Colo., is visiting local relatives. Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Goldin, who are visiting in Janesville, called on Beloit friends yesterday.

Jacob Stern will spend the next few days in Pittsburgh on business. Melvin Beede of Beloit is visiting Mrs. Ruth Field at Lauderdale Lake.

Chief of Police Scheibel of Beloit was there with the police chariot to see that they were properly arrested and escorted to the city jailhouse. There waiting for forty of their friends were waiting with several pounds of rice. Quite a number of others had heard of the fun so that there was a crowd of about a hundred waiting when the train came in. Mr. and Mrs. Brown however must have suspected something of the kind for when the train came in they were not among the passengers who got off nor could they be found, having got off at some station below. They have not yet returned to the city nor do any of their friends or the father of the bride know when they will come back.

REPORT ON CANAL IS VERY PLEASING

PRESIDENT GIVES OUT FINDINGS OF COMMISSION.

COL. GOETHALS IS UPHELD

Investigators Found Astonishing Progress and Satisfactory Conditions on the Isthmus—Recommendations on Labor.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 24.—President Roosevelt Sunday made public a report made to him on August 6 by a special commission consisting of James Bronson Reynolds, Samuel L. Donnelly and Henry Beach Needham, regarding conditions in Panama. The commission was appointed April 28 last "to investigate conditions, especially as regards labor and accommodations, on the Isthmus of Panama."

That the president is pleased with the report is shown in a letter which he sent to each member of the commission on Friday. He expresses particular pleasure over the fact that the commission upholds the administration of Col. George W. Goethals, chairman of the Isthmian canal commission, and the president has had a copy of the report mailed to Col. Goethals requesting that the recommendations made by the commission be put into effect immediately so far as possible. The president will submit the report to congress with appropriate recommendations.

To a great extent the report is devoted to a statistical outline of the work that has been accomplished and the work that remains to be done.

President Roosevelt's Letter.

President Roosevelt's letter of appreciation, sent to the commissioners on August 21, is as follows:

"Gentlemen: I have received your admirable report upon conditions at Panama. I am greatly impressed with it and shall submit it to congress with appropriate recommendations as soon as that body convenes. Meanwhile, I shall send your recommendations to Col. Goethals and ask him to put them into effect as far as possible, and where he deems this impossible or impracticable to report the fact to me with his reasons.

"I am naturally extremely pleased at the very satisfactory showing that your report makes of conditions under Col. Goethals and his associates. I doubt if there is any place of work undertaken on behalf of the American people of recent years of which the American people have more reason to be proud than of the work hitherto done on the Panama canal. The success has literally been astounding. Five years ago when we undertook the task, no sane man would have dared to hope for the results which have already been achieved. The work itself has been advanced more expeditiously than we had ventured to think and the rapidity of the rate of progress has steadily increased.

Model as to Hygiene.

"Meanwhile the treatment of hygienic conditions on the Isthmus has been such as to make it literally the model for all work of the kind in tropical countries. Five years ago the Isthmus of Panama was a by-word for unhealthiness of the most deadly kind. At present the canal zone is one of the healthiest places on the globe, and the work which is being prosecuted under conditions so favorable to the health and well-being of the workers that the mortality among them is abnormally small.

"Finally, in addition to the extreme efficiency of the work under Col. Goethals and his associates and the extraordinary hygienic success achieved under Dr. Gorgas, there is the further and exceedingly gratifying fact that on the Isthmus the United States government has been able to show itself a model employer. There are matters to correct, of course, as your report showed, but on the whole it is true that the United States government is looking after the welfare, health and comfort of those working for it as no other government has ever done in work of like character."

Some Points in the Report.

The report advises that the wage scale be revised and simplified and that no reduction in wages be made. The commission says it found the eight-hour law faithfully enforced. It recommends that a labor secretary to the commission should be appointed, whose duty it shall be to investigate all complaints in relation to conditions of employment, subsistence and accommodations, and to report thereupon to the chairman of the commission.

Adequate compensation for those injured while at work on the canal is recommended. As at present provided by law, injured workmen are entitled to one year's pay "unless sooner able to resume work." In case of death the widow, children and dependent parents receive the workman's wages for the rest of the year.

CATHOLICS FEAST MEN OF THE FLEET

BIG BANQUET IN SYDNEY AFTER MASS IN CATHEDRAL.

HIGH OFFICIALS PRESENT

Cardinal Moran Presides and Promises Kangaroo to Flagship—Protestant Tara Also Attends Services.

Sydney, N. S. W., Aug. 21.—Four thousand men of the American fleet were permitted ashore Sunday and 1,200 of those, including 124 officers, attended high mass in the cathedral. The services were impressive and special music had been arranged in honor of the Americans.

A banquet was given at night in the town hall by the Catholics to 1,200 men and officers of the fleet, which was attended by the federal ministers, judges and other officials. Cardinal Moran, archbishop of Sydney, presided. Toasts were drunk to the king and the president, after which Cardinal Moran, in proposing "Our Guests," delivered a long historical address, showing that Catholics had advanced along the same line of prosperity and religious liberty in America and Australia.

Chaplain Gleeson Responds.

Rev. Matthew C. Gleeson, chaplain of the battleship Connecticut, responded in a brilliant address. He said that Sydney's reception surpassed any that the fleet had received, even at home.

The magnificent hospitality of the Australians, he declared, would make an abiding impression in the hearts of 80,000,000 Americans, who were truly kinsmen.

Among the most cherished mementoes of the visit that the Americans will carry away will be a tame kangaroo which Cardinal Moran will present to the flagship Connecticut, as he said he wished the men of the ship to have something characteristic of the country.

Protestants Also Worship.

Rear Admiral Sperry, Lord Northcote, Sir Harry and Lady Dawson and a large number of the officers and men of the visiting fleet attended the Anglican cathedral; the Baptists and Congregationalists united in service which also was largely attended.

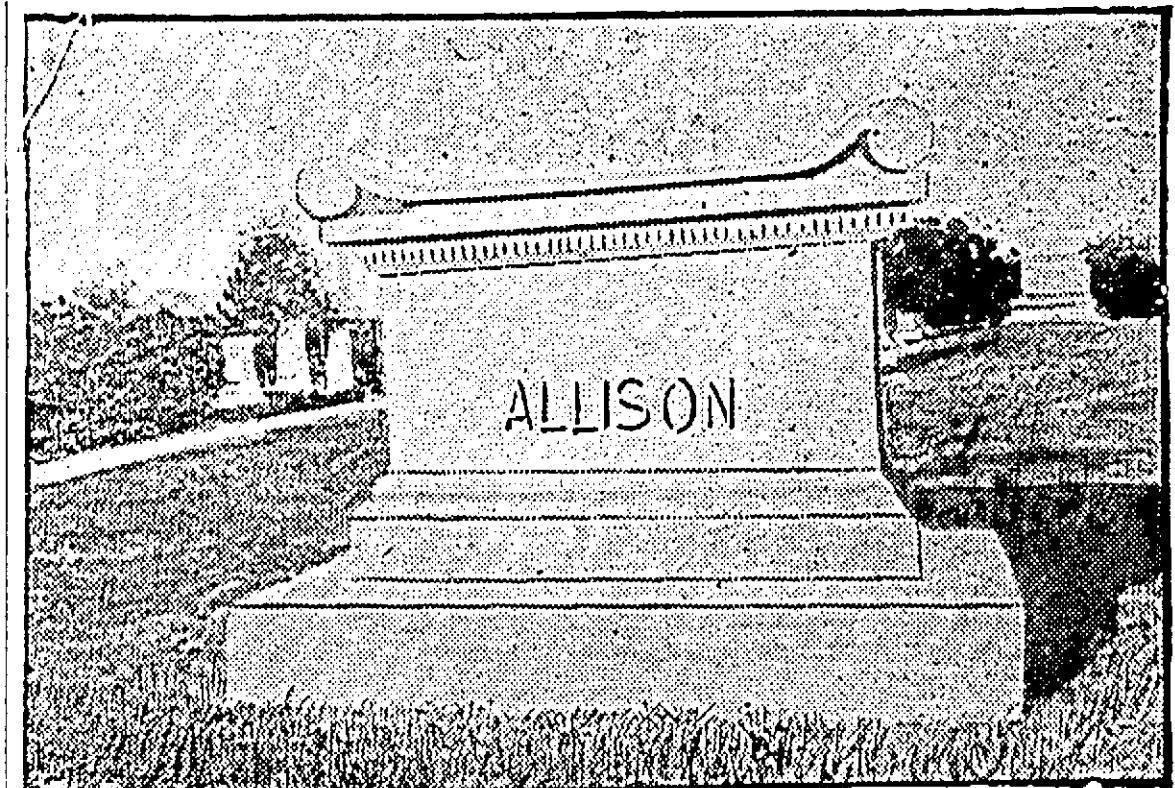

Chaplain Stevenson of the Illinois officiated at a Methodist service of the American and British blue jackets, while the Presbyterians worshipped in the town hall.

BEGGS TALKS ON THE INTERURBAN

PRESIDENT OF THE MILWAUKEE ELECTRIC RAILWAY DISCUSSES PROJECTED EXTENSIONS.

SAYS MONEY IS NEEDED

Intimates That Line from Watertown May Be Extended to Madison and Even Into Janesville.

President John L. Beggs of the Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Company talks of the possible extension of his lines from Watertown, their present western terminal, to Ft. Atkinson, Milton and Janesville, and also from Watertown to Madison. In discussing the project Mr. Beggs said in a recent interview that money was needed to complete the plans of his company. He intimated that it depended upon the districts through which he proposed running whether the road was built or not.

If people living along the proposed interurban electric lines from Watertown west, south and north, will subscribe 25 per cent of the amount of bonds required to raise the necessary funds, I will state for the company that it will proceed with all the work as soon as this guarantee is made.

Otherwise, we must wait until the public comes up in its attacks upon corporations and those securities which are absolutely essential to carry on great enterprises. We cannot build these lines without money, and as long as capitalists are allowed for providing for securities for just this class of public enterprise, little can be done.

The elaborate extension plan of President Beggs, as mapped out more than a year ago, contemplates an interurban line from Watertown north to Janesville, Beaver Dam, Waupun and Fond du Lac, or Oshkosh; another line from the Watertown terminus, west to Waterloo, Sun Prairie, Madison and thence to Elgerton and Milton with a third line south from Watertown to Johnson Creek, Jefferson, Fort Atkinson, Lake Koshkonong, to Milton, connecting at the latter point with the line via Madison, and thence running south to Janesville and Beloit, to the Illinois state line. Later, from Beloit a line will be built to Darien, Elkhorn and East Troy, where it will connect with the present Milwaukee-East Troy line.

Continuing Mr. Beggs said:

"But this sort of work cannot and will not be undertaken or carried out until such time as a wider view takes hold of those people who are crying down corporations and the companies which manage the securities necessary to get money for the work. With constant public attacks upon such securities they consequently cannot get money to be used in these great enterprises. While we would be willing to go ahead now, providing people directly interested along these routes were willing to turn 25 per cent of the amount of bonds which would be necessary, we cannot, if required to raise these funds through the corporations being abused and traduced, proceed until some time in the future. We are not in these days building for a year or two years, but for the long future, and I think the character of our present interurban lines will prove to any sane person that we are not building to sell out. We are building for the future of this company, and we have thus far built nothing but the best."

GOOD ROADS ARE TO BE TOPICS DISCUSSED

State Good Roads Association to Hold Its Annual Convention in Milwaukee on Tuesday, Sept. 8.

Preparations are being made for one of the biggest good roads conventions ever held in the country. The first state convention, held last year, had nearly two thousand people present, and a permanent organization was formed with ex-Governor Hoard as president.

This state convention was considerably larger than any of the national good roads gatherings that have been held for many years, and from the information already manifested it seems probable that there will be more delegations present than last year.

Every town chairman in the state has been asked to suggest the names of prominent farmers in his locality who will be appointed as delegates.

The State Good Roads association is very much interested in the amendment of the constitution of the state which must be passed by the people in one November election before our state can give state money to aid the farmers to pay for building good roads. This amendment will doubtless be voted on in the fall.

Losses Caused by Thoughtlessness.

It is one of the greatest trials of the employer of men that his employees so easily think of what they are doing. As the claim agent of a great railroad how much money mere thoughtlessness costs the company in a single year! His master will surprise you. For the railroads of the United States these unthinking workers cost their employers tens of millions of dollars every year as the expense bill for thoughtlessness.—Chicago Tribune.

FOR COUNTY TREASURER.

MEYER DENOUNCES BRYAN BANK PLAN

GUARANTEEING DEPOSITS "ONE STEP TOWARD SOCIALISM."

DANGER OF REPUBLICANS

Postmaster General Fears Those in East Are Too Confident—Hitchcock Busy in New England.

Not Springs, Va., Aug. 24.—Postmaster General Meyer, who is here conferring with Judge Taft, Sunday expressed himself in an interview on the general political situation and on the Democratic proposition of guaranteeing national bank deposits, declaring the latter to be "one step farther toward socialism."

Mr. Meyer believes the greatest danger the party confronts in the east is the prevailing sentiment that the election of the Republican ticket is a foregone conclusion. In this connection, he remarked that it might be the best thing for the party if the usual majority in Vermont should be materially reduced. This would, he said, in view of the September election in that state, arouse the Republicans to a realization that a campaign was on.

Must Stir Up Non-Voters.

"There are," he said, "thousands of voters in every state who do not get out to the polls unless they feel there is a real necessity for them to vote. Therefore, if interest is not sufficiently aroused and the importance of this coming election fully appreciated, several states may be lost by default. Mr. Bryan has been endeavoring to give the impression that the president has stolen some of his policies. The Democratic candidate, however, is identified with free silver, the dishonest dollar, a policy of repudiation of national and private debts and obligations, anti-imperialism and government ownership. Mr. Roosevelt has never been a free silver man, has always believed in the honest dollar. No one would ever accuse him of anti-imperialism, and he has been most emphatically against government ownership, but has contended for government supervision whenever necessary.

"The progressive reforms and practical policies which Mr. Roosevelt and the Republican party have put in force would be gladly claimed by Mr. Bryan as his own."

As to Guaranteed Deposits.

"In the present campaign the Democratic candidate is bringing forward a short cut and plausible panacea against panics, the guaranteeing of deposits in national banks. At first sight this would appear to be a sort of insurance. Insurance, however, is a contract whereby one party voluntarily pays to another party a fixed sum for indemnity against loss and not to exceed an agreed amount. The guaranteeing proposition compels by law the banks to pay unknown sums for future losses, and to an unknown amount and subject to unknown risks over which they have no control. Thus guaranteeing of deposits by all national banks would mean nothing less than that the conservative and honestly managed banks would have to pay the debts of banks which have been badly and dishonestly managed."

After the New England Vote.

Boston, Aug. 24.—Republican political activity in New England will center in this city during the next few days when Chairman Hitchcock of the Republican national convention will confer with the party leaders of the six New England states in regard to the aspects of the presidential campaign, especially in reference to the coming elections in Vermont and Maine.

Chairman Hitchcock is expected to arrive in Boston Monday from Dalton, accompanied by United States Senator W. Murray Crane, whose guest he had been at the senator's home in the Berkshires.

Seven Hurt in Auto Accident.

Milwaukee, Aug. 24.—Seven Milwaukee people were injured Sunday evening, one perhaps fatally, when the steering gear of an automobile driven by H. R. King, general manager of the Save Company of America, broke near Richfield, Wis., and the automobile plunged through a barbed wire fence. King is lying in a farmer's house near death.

MISS PARSONS KILLS HERSELF.

American Girl in Paris Grieved Over Death of Fiance.

Paris, Aug. 24.—Miss Willfred, daughter of the late Charles Parsons, president of the Rome, Watertown & Ogdensburg railroad, New York, who died in 1901, was found dead with a bullet wound in her head Sunday in her apartment in the Avenue Iena. The police say that the case is one of suicide, while friends of the dead girl declare that the shooting was an accident.

It was learned that the girl had been suffering from melancholia since the death of her fiance, a young Frenchman, Emile Muus, who died four months ago from consumption. Miss Parsons was found dead in bed by a maid. The girl's right hand clutched a revolver.

Chicago Sub-Treasury Teller Accused of Stealing $173,000.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—George W. Fitzgerald, the assorting teller in the sub-treasury from whose desk $173,000 disappeared about 18 months ago, was arrested early Sunday morning, charged with the theft of the money. He took his arrest without a fight.

At the time the money disappeared Fitzgerald was put under surveillance, but no evidence against him could be secured. Detectives kept at work on the case, however, and lately it was learned the man had lost a large sum of money speculating in eggs. Then he purchased a costly residence in a suburb. A few days ago it was reported to the officials that Fitzgerald had offered to sell a $1,000 bill for $500, and his arrest followed.

PISTOL BATTLE WITH BANDITS.

Minneapolis Detectives Kill a Thief from Fort Madison, Ia.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 24.—In a sensational revolver battle between Detective Harry Hayes and Andrew Crumley, of the Minneapolis police department and two bandits, who have been terrorizing South Minneapolis recently, Walter Miller, one of the bandits, was shot three times and died in a hospital. Just before his death Miller stated that his home was at Fort Madison, Ia. He refused to divulge the name of his companion in the fight. Neither of the detectives was hurt. The detectives were searching for the bandits when the tables were turned and the highwaymen attempted to "hold-up" the officers.

COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY DOOR, MEAD & COMPANY

CHAPTER XXX.

JANE was ill and did not leave her room during the two days following the visit to the penitentiary. She was haunted by the fate of James Bansemer, the convict. It was beyond her powers of imagination to recall him as the well groomed, distinguished man she once had known. Graydon was deeply distressed over the pain and humiliation he had subjected her to through Droom's unfortunate efforts. The fact that she could not or would not see him for two days hurt him more than he could express, even to himself. The day before he left for New York, however, she saw him in their parlor. She was pale and quiet.

Neither mentioned the visit to the prison. There was nothing to say.

"You will be in New York next week?" he asked as he arose to leave. His spirit was sore. She again had told him that he must not hope. With a hysterical attempt to hold him on to other topics she repeated her conversations with Torero Valesquez, trying him, with a hopeless attempt at bravado, to seek out the Spanish girl and marry her. He laughed heartily at the jest.

"We will leave Chicago on Monday. Father will have his business affairs arranged by that time. I would not let him resign the presidency. He would soon die if I were taking it away with him. We expect to be in Europe for six or eight months; then I am coming back to New York, where I was born, to work."

He went away with the feeling that he was not to see her again. A single atom of determination clung to his soul, however, and he tried to build upon it for the future. Highly's wedding invitation had come to him that morning, almost as a mockery. He tore it to pieces, with a scowl of mortification.

"Droom's effects were on the way to New York. He hung back, humbly waiting for Graydon to suggest that they should travel east on the same train. His grim, friendless old heart gave a bound of pure joy. The first he had known, when the young man made the suggestion that night.

Together they traveled eastward and homeward, leaving behind them, the gray man in stripes.

Jane's six months in Europe grew into year, and longer. It was a long but a profitable year for Graydon-Bansemer. He had been enriched not only in wealth, but in the hope of ultimate happiness. Not that Jane encouraged him. Far from it. She was more obstinate than ever with an ocean between them. But his atom of determination had grown to a purpose. His face was thinner, and his eyes were deeper.

He went down again, father, before he can go to you, every cent of it. You see?"

"Father!—let us not talk about it now," said Graydon hotly, a shadow of repugnance in his eyes. Bansemer studied his face for a moment, and a deep red mounted to his brow.

"You mean, Graydon," he stammered, "that you—you do not want my money?"

"Why should we talk about it now?"

"Because it suggests my death!"

"No, no, father. I—" "You need not say it. I understand. It's enough. You feel that my money was not honestly made. Well, we won't discuss it. I'll not offer it to you again."

"It won't make any difference, dad, I love you. I don't love your money."

"Or the way I earned it. Some day, my boy, you'll learn that very few make money by dealing squarely with their fellow men. It's not the custom. My methods were a little broader than common, that's all. I now notify you that I intend to leave all I have to sweet charity. I earned most of my ill gotten wealth in New York and Chicago, and I'm going to give it back to these cities. Charity will take anything that is offered, but it doesn't always give in return."

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, Aug. 24, 1868.—Runaway.—A horse driven by William Farley took flight yesterday near the depot and ran away. Two girls were with him, both of whom were thrown from the wagon, and one of them named Bridget Connors was severely hurt.

More About the Steiners—Both steamers were out today and in full blast endeavoring to distance each other in the length of the stream. For half an hour they played side by side, both doing finely. Then the button machine a little ahead. Returning to self-respective engine houses the drivers in charge proceeded to decorate the rival machines with flags and garlands after which they paraded the streets to their satisfaction; and retired to await the decision of the committee which will be forthcoming some time this afternoon.

Accident—As one of the steam engines was passing down Main street a pair of oxen attached to a wagon became frightened at the unusual disturbance, and made an effort to run, which the owner, a Mrs. Madden was Fulton, endeavored to prevent. In doing this she was thrown violently to the ground and trampled upon by the team, which started up the street at a speed which threatened to annihilate any opposing obstacle, but finally bringing up without doing any particular damage. Mrs. Madden was picked up and carried to Dr. Hodge's Drug Store, where her hurts were examined. We did not learn the extent of her injuries, which however were not serious.

Dedication—The Baptist dedication services, yesterday morning, were the occasion of the largest gathering of the kind ever witnessed in this city, some fifteen hundred persons assembling in the audience room of their church both morning and evening, two thirds of whom were ladies.

Both the Congregational and Presbyterian churches suspended services to allow their congregations an opportunity of attending. Rev. Dr. Evans of Chicago preached the dedication sermon, which was listened to with rapt attention by the large congregation.

In the evening Dr. Hodge conducted the services.

TANNER—A wood engraving of a tanner's shop, showing a large wheelbarrow containing leather, a large tub, a large vat, a large barrel, and various tools.

Scotman Not Wanted.

Some years ago, Sir James Browne had an amusing encounter with a mounted official at Kingston, Jamaica. So far away from home, the famous doctor was, no doubt, a little homesick, and he hoped that he might be able to come across some of his own countrymen. "Are there many Scotchmen in these parts?" he inquired of the said official. "Not many," replied the latter; "just a few—but quite enough."
